

ARMIES READY FOR BIG FIGHT

Japanese Assume the Offensive Along the Front West of the Shakhe River.

HAVE HEAVY REINFORCEMENTS

From Forty to Sixty Thousand Men Are Said To Have Joined Oyama's Army for This Final Fight.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 1.—Everything indicates that both the Japanese and the Russian armies south of Mukden are ready for a resumption of hostilities, if indeed fighting has not already begun.

Gen. Kouropatkin reports that the Japanese have received reinforcements from the south and Fengwang-cheng. Their concentration seems to have been accomplished and they are ready to resume the offensive both east and west of the railroad.

There is no official estimate of the strength of the Japanese reinforcements, but correspondents place it at from 40,000 to 60,000. It is believed the Japanese force has been largely augmented both from Port Arthur and Japan.

Dispatches indicate the resumption of fighting on both extremities of the Russian front. The night of Oct. 30 the Japanese attacked the Russian trenches east of Sinchinpu, but were repulsed though the bombardment continued throughout the night. A Japanese advance has also begun against the Russian positions at Tung-an, a mile and a half north of Bent-siapu, where they encountered a heavy Russian fire.

Japs Are Aggressive.
The Japanese are becoming aggressive along the whole front, from Bent-siapu to the extreme east to Sinchinpu, which is west of the Shakhe river, where that stream bends south after crossing the railroad. This probably constitutes the extreme Russian front, making the battle front about the same as when Gen. Kouropatkin began his southern movement.

It is believed here that the second battle of the Shakhe river will prove to be as much bigger and more serious than the first as the first was more serious than the battle of Liaoyang.

Gen. Kouropatkin is confronted by an exceedingly difficult problem. He is pitted against a Japanese force stronger, even despite its recent losses, than that first opposing his southern advance. If Kouropatkin now succeeds in checking or even breaking the Japanese formation, it will open a large possibility for the brief remainder of the present year's campaign. On the other hand, a Russian reverse now would render the position exceedingly critical.

Fighting at Port Arthur.
Chefoo, Nov. 1.—The general assault upon Port Arthur, which began in a preliminary way on Oct. 24, developed into a fiercely raging battle Sunday, when, according to a hitherto infallible authority, the Japanese flung a heavy force against the fortress in their third attempt to secure a commanding position.

HIS HEARTY ACTION IS RENEWED

Strange Recovery of Man Who Received Electric Shock.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 1.—Tom Doening, assistant electrician of South Bend, who was seriously shocked by electricity on Labor day, has been dismissed from the hospital in fairly good health. His case has been pronounced the strangest on record by Dr. Carter and Dr. A. C. Daugherty, who attended him, in that for three hours after he was picked up unconscious, the physicians were unable to detect any trace of heart action. They would have given up the case as hopeless had they not ascertained that he was breathing slightly.

Maurice Barrymore Is Dying

New York, Nov. 1.—Maurice Barrymore, actor, is said to be in a dying condition at the sanitarium in Amityville, L. I., where he has been for a number of years.

The Japanese have been preparing for this assault for a month. It is believed that the Japanese did not expect to capture the town on this occasion, but to accomplish another important forward step. This plan was adopted following the first assault when thousands of lives were sacrificed in an attempt to swarm over the fortifications by a mere force of numbers regardless of loss.

Details of the Attack.
Oct. 24, having made every possible preparation, the Japanese opened fire with their artillery along the whole line, incidentally continuing their daily practice of dropping shells into the harbor.

The bombardment continued furiously until the afternoon of Oct. 26, when the Russian guns on the Etse mountain, Antse mountain and Rihlung mountain became briefly silent.

At 4 o'clock that afternoon a regiment of Japanese swept out from behind a recently captured hill adjacent to Rihlung mountain and advanced on the Russian trenches lying between Rihlung mountain and the railroad, occupying them after several hours' fighting.

The Russians stuck to their points till the Japanese were within a few yards, both sides hurling hand grenades at each other.

Take Trenches by Storm.
In the meanwhile another body of Japanese assaulted the trenches on the slopes of Rihlung mountain. The Japanese trenches extended to certain portions of the slope and stopped some distance above the extreme Japanese outpost, where the ascent of Rihlung mountain becomes almost perpendicular.

The Russian trenches seemed the slope.

To advance against them over an unbroken slope, which was mined, even with Russian resistance would have been a difficult task; but the slope had been torn up, great holes having been blown in it at various places by the bombardment, and the Japanese availed themselves of these indentations, which offered combined foothold and protection against bullets.

Meanwhile, the fire of all their available artillery was directed against the Russian trenches, the Russians eventually retiring, whereupon the Japanese in thirty minutes constructed trenches sufficient to shield themselves.

The Russians exploded mines, but the Japanese claim without result.

Upon the retirement of their troops the Russians opened fire from Lihlung mountain, and that night they made a sortie. But the Japanese had in the meanwhile brought up machine guns, with which the sortie was repulsed.

Arthur Trumbull, a livery driver, and John Stratton were seriously wounded. The injured persons were preparing to leave in a wagon when fired upon from ambush. The two horses were killed. The party which did the shooting escaped.

Berlin, Nov. 1.—It is reported that the federal council has expressed the opinion that the present regent of Lippe-Detmold, Prince Leopold, is entitled to the regency and that other disputes relative to the succession should be decided by a court formed under the presidency of some German prince, from members of the imperial supreme court. The Lippe-Detmold government has assented, but the competitors have not yet indicated their positions. Prince Luitpold, regent of Bavaria, is mentioned as president. This alleged action of the federal council is in conflict with Emperor William's telegram, stating that the legal questions concerning the regency were not clear.

ENGINEERS QUIT WORK IN MINES

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 1.—Eight hundred engineers who run the hoisting machinery of the mines of the Illinois Coal Operators' association went on a strike at midnight Monday, closing 255 mines and throwing 50,000 miners out of work.

The strike is confined to the state of Illinois.

The hoisting engineers form a separate organization from the United Mine Workers, and the strike has not the sanction of the big organization.

The mine workers, however, in the majority of cases say they will not take the places of the engineers, but will simply stop work for a while and look on.

The strike was caused by an attempt of the operators to reduce the wages of the hoisting engineers 5.55 per cent. This the engineers refused, and then the operators' association suggested arbitration, which, in turn, was refused by the engineers. The time limit expired with the month of October, so the engineers ordered the strike.

All hoisting machinery in the mines is stopped, and work is impossible in most of the shafts until the hoists are again in operation.

Strikers Make a Statement

The following statement, issued by Secretary Jenkins, gives the engineers' version of the situation:

"The main argument of the coal operators in the engineers' controversy is that the engineers should submit to the reduction of wages that all the other employees at the mines have done."

"This argument is answered by the engineers with the claim that they have not been advanced with the other employees and that if they should submit to all the reductions, they are first entitled to all the advances. The total advance to the engineers aggregates less than 2 1/2 per cent, or considerably less than is being paid to the mine workers after deducting the 5.55 per cent reduction submitted to this year."

View Held by Operators

A member of the operators' association said:
"From the present prospect the stoppage of work will be of short duration. Mining will be resumed before there can be any scarcity and meanwhile there will be competition from coal producers in other states."

"The engineers' strike looks like a bluff. Many of the men do not want to quit and will return in a few days. The places of the others can be filled without difficulty."

The operators believe that it is the desire of the Mine Workers' union that the strike fail, as it would be possible for the big order to get control of the engineers, which they have not heretofore been able to do.

Engineers Are Confident

Danville, Ill., Nov. 1.—Negotiations with the operators' association are at an end and the strike of the hoisting engineers is on. There was no work after the second shift left the mines at 10 o'clock Monday night, but the men of the third shift remained by the engines till midnight, so that the miners could take out tools and prepare for the shutdown.
The engineers think that the strike may last a couple of weeks, but are confident of winning.

There are 4,000 miners in the Danville subdistrict.

Reports from all the districts affected were received here by both the officials of the hoisting engineers' union and representatives of the operators' association. The Bloomington district reported that the strike was in force there and that the 400 men in the mines were preparing to take things easy for a few days.

In the big Pana district the effect for a time will be serious, as there are over 3,000 men in the region and 1,000 in the city of Pana alone. The miners' interest is so great there that the rank and file are not pleased at being thrown out of work by a strike with which they have no sympathy.

Thousands Are Affected

Twelve hundred men are made idle in the Streator district, and they are likely to grow restless in a short time if the strike is not settled.

The shutdown in the La Salle district affects about 1,800 men in La Salle, Peru and Oglesby, and it is said that many of the miners declare they will be willing to work with non-union engineers until arrangements can be made to take them into the federation.

Four hundred and fifty men are idle in Taylorville and over 4,000 in the Peoria district. In Pekin and the surrounding territory the strike of 200 engineers affects fully 20,000 men.

There has been no trouble at any point so far as is known, and little is expected.

In some mines the chief trouble will be from water and the difficulty in caring for mules still in the mines.

JEFFRIS TEARS THE LIDS OFF

Tells of the Gigantic Steal of the Oil Inspectors of This State.

HOW THE MEASURE WAS PASSED

Why the Governor Wanted This Great Army of Workers To Do His Bidding—His Speeches at Marshfield.

By Staff Correspondent.

Burlington, Nov. 1.—M. G. Jeffris last night exposed the oil inspectorship graft in terms that cannot be measured. He told facts which have not hitherto been known. He shed light upon matters which have been shrouded in mystery. His address was delivered at the Opera House before twelve hundred persons who enthusiastically greeted him, by torch bearers and every demonstration possible was made to show the real sentiment of the people. In tearing the mask off the oil inspectors Mr. Jeffris said:

The Facts

"The session of the legislature of 1901 passed chapter 466 relating to the inspection of illuminating oils and petroleum products. It was prepared in the office of the attorney general at the instance of Governor La Follette who had urged such a measure in his message. After the bill was drawn it was submitted to Professor Mitchell, a noted chemist, who reported in writing that it was impossible to carry out the provisions of the bill which calls for branding and stamping of oils designating them 'Excellent,' 'Good,' 'Fair,' or 'Poor,' for the reason that it was impossible to determine illuminating qualities except upon a strict chemical test of every package. The bill provides for a supervisor at a salary of $1500 a year and travelling expenses to be appointed by the governor and for a sufficient number of deputy inspectors to properly inspect all oils sold in this state for illuminating or heating purposes."

"Seventy such deputies have been appointed. The report of Professor Mitchell was suppressed and Overbeck in the assembly and Mr. Gifford in the senate took charge of the bill and secured its passage upon the grounds that it was a good bill and the governor wanted it. They knew it was a fraud upon the citizens of Wisconsin. The tests could not be made and have not been made. The law requires that every person selling such oil shall exhibit in a conspicuous place a sign or placard announcing the quality of the oil, and failing to do so, shall be liable to a fine of not less than five dollars or more than five hundred dollars, or to imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months, or both."

No sign of the kind has ever been put up in any store in the state of Wisconsin and no prosecution has ever begun under this law. Overbeck was rewarded for his share in the work by being made chief game warden of the state.

Vast Sums

"Over $50,000 has been paid to these inspectors during the last two and a half years and the people of the state are not getting a cent's worth of benefit. The law was originated by La Follette and put through the legislature after he knew it could not be carried out. It is one of the cleverest pieces of fraud upon the people of the state that has ever been made and was committed for the sole purpose of adding seventy grafters to the pay roll who would chase up every vote in the county."

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Tuesday, November 1, 1864—Sudden Death.—We find the following item in reference to the death of a member of the thirteenth regiment in the Morrison, Whetstone county, Sentinel, of October, 27:

"A man whose name we learn is William Pollington, arrived in town on Tuesday afternoon last on the 3:30 train. In a short time afterwards while walking along the sidewalk on Main street he was attacked by bleeding of the lungs, and was taken to King and Jenk's hardware store where he died in about fifteen minutes. We understand that he formerly belonged to the Company B, 13th regiment, Ill. Volunteers and was discharged a year ago in consequence of consumptive disease.

"The Ladies Aid society of this place took charge of the corpse and had proper burial clothes and coffin furnished. The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. G. T. Crissman yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock to a goodly number of our citizens and discharged soldiers after which the remains were decently interred in our burial grounds. We are informed that he has relatives living in Wisconsin who may learn about the whereabouts of his remains should any of them read this article.

EXPENSIVE SHIRKING.—A man named Cary drafted from this county last November reported, and afterwards ran away, but was tracked to Icosac Falls, New York, and a detective was recently sent on and the fugitive sent back to this city. He was sent to Madison yesterday, after being charged with all the expense of his arrest, amounting to something like $90. As his pay in the army did not commence until he was mustered in the chances are that he will not get rich very soon.

GETTING HAULED UP.—A number of men who were in too much of a hurry to walk their teams across the bridges, have already been arrested and made to pay the fine imposed by the ordinance for such unreasonable haste.

FLING AMMONIA AT POLICEMAN

Violators of Speed Law Throw Chemical in Pursuer's Face.
New York, Nov. 1.—Automobilists who violate the speed law have discovered a means for escaping the police who pursue them. Ammonia, thrown by a syringe, is the safeguard. At least its use has been demonstrated successfully in a thrilling chase by a Fifth avenue policeman mounted on a bicycle. As he was peddling up Fifth avenue a big touring machine dashed past. He called upon the chauffeur to slow down, but a derisive laugh was the only answer. He had just reached the back end of the machine when a puff of vapor shot into his face and he tumbled headlong from his wheel. The auto party disappeared.

When once liberated within your system, it produces a most wonderful effect. It's worth one's last dollar to feel the pleasure of life that comes by taking Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. Smith Drug Co.

APPEALS FOR NEEDY IN JAPAN

Bishop Harris Says Families of Soldiers in War Are Suffering.
New York, Nov. 1.—An appeal for funds to assist in the support of the families of Japanese soldiers now at the front was made by Bishop M. C. Harris, missionary bishop for the Methodist Episcopal church at Tokyo, in an address at the regular weekly meeting of the Methodist Preachers' association.

CAN'T BE SEPARATED.

Some Janesville People Have Learned How to Get Rid of Both Backache and kidney ache are twin brothers.
You can't separate them. And you can't get rid of the backache until you cure the kidney ache. If the kidneys are well and strong the rest of the system is pretty sure to be in vigorous health.
Doan's Kidney Pills make strong healthy kidneys.
Mr. E. Dillenbeck of 120 Milton avenue, retired farmer, says: "My wife was troubled with kidney complaint for four or five years and complained of pains in the small of the back in the region of the kidneys. The symptoms all indicated that the kidneys were deranged and the doctors who treated her said that those organs caused the disturbance. As she did not get any better we thought Doan's Kidney Pills might give her relief, on procuring them at the People's Drug Store, I had her use the remedy. I did for her all that could be expected. We can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills and you can use our names as saying what has been stated above."

WHO BUILT THE SUBWAY?

"Who built the subway?"
"I," says capital, "I built the subway with my dollars."
"Who built the subway?"
"I," says the engineer, "I built the subway with my trained mind and professional skill."
"Who built the subway?"
"I," says the laborer, "I built the subway by organizing and directing the work."
"Who built the subway?"
"I," says the laborer, "I built the subway with my pick and shovel."
"Who built the subway?"
Capital, labor, engineer and contractor, all had a share in its achievement.

The capitalist who claims that it was his money and ability for business organization that has worked the marvels in industrial and commercial achievement, and insists upon taking all the profit and glory, is just as wrong as the laborer who, echoing what he has heard in some socialist meeting, shouts: "There is no wealth that was not produced by labor, and therefore all wealth should be the reward of labor."

Capital, labor, brains enter into the accomplishment of every great enterprise. One is of little value without the other. Capital would be useless without the strong arm of labor, and labor would have nothing to dig if capital did not supply the necessary equipment. And without the education and training of the engineer and other professional men capital and labor would be powerless.

Andrew Carnegie is one of the greatest capitalists in the world. But he does not claim that his money has done it all. Sir James Kitson asked Mr. Carnegie if he understood an intricate piece of machinery in one of his steel mills, and he tells Mr. Carnegie's answer:
"No," replied the great iron master; "but I know how to gather about me men that do know machinery and all about the steel business. I don't know much about steel machinery or the steel business, but I do know the human machine."

The Wall Street Journal thus tersely discusses capital, labor, brains, the three great forces which supply the motive power to the world's great enterprises. Capital, unemployed, is as helpless as labor unemployed, and both are dependent upon the fertile brain and active intelligent mind, for direction.

The combination of muscle and brain is the heritage of the great rank and file of humanity, and in the development of these two forces capital is frequently required. This kind of capital is worth more to the possessor than inherited wealth, because it represents something by way of toll and sacrifice.

The New York subway represents one of the greatest enterprises of the new century. The brain which conceived it and the engineering skill which made it possible are a credit to the nation. The capital invested is entitled to reward, while the labor employed has already been well paid.

The enterprises which engage average attention are not subways, and many of them are not regarded as great undertakings, but all work, whether of hand or brain, is important.

A CONSISTENT GOLD DEMOCRAT
Mayor John Byrne, president of the Democratic Sound Money League in the two previous presidential campaigns, has recently issued a circular giving his reasons for remaining with the republican party and sound money this year.

He regards the democratic party as still under the control of Bryan and says that the St. Louis convention demonstrated that 70 per cent of the delegates stood for the "heresy" of 1896, and that no 10 per cent of the other 30 stood unequivocally for the gold standard.

In speaking of Judge Parker he says that his famous telegram failed to denounce the doctrine which he supported in 1896 and 1900, but simply treated the question as settled, in closing he says:

"Search the entire record of public utterances by the supporters of the democratic party, press and people, since the nomination of the candidates, and you will find no argument based on tangible facts that will justify the gold democrat, or any other democrat, in supporting the party this fall. Abuse of President Roosevelt, misrepresentations and false assumptions, without a thread of fact to sustain them, are all we get. No argument, pledges or assurances given upon which we can rely; certainly nothing to warrant our confidence. All is destructive in policy and purpose; nothing constructive."

"Mr. Henry Watterson, of Kentucky, a few days ago boldly proclaimed to the assembled democratic editors that the gold standard being settled it was not considered an issue; while at the same time Senator Blackburn, of the same state, was holding out to the democrats of Kentucky the hope that Mr. Bryan and his doctrine will yet prevail and free silver win. Mr. Watterson is supporting Mr. Bligeburn. The editors, the exponents of democratic thought, in the country, sustain Mr. Watterson, and all support Judge Parker, who endorses their views and accepts their support."

"I repeat, there is no safety for the gold standard in democratic success, and no hope for a settlement of the money question, so vital to our prosperity. Barely ten days ago Mr. Bryan publicly proclaimed that he had not given up the idea of fighting for free silver, but expected that plank to be restored to the party platform; that his submission to its exclusion from the present platform was practically a matter of expediency."

"Therefore, our duty is plain. We should stand by our friends and support Roosevelt, the constructive statesman, good citizen of lofty impulse and ideals, to whom our young men can look for guidance with confidence; whose past record is an earnest of his future position in support of the honor, integrity, safety and advancement of his country; a man with convictions and the courage to maintain them."

"For the present I shall remain a consistent democrat and assist in preserving the ancient faith."

LA FOLLETTEISM
If any doubt existed in the minds of Janesville people concerning the loyalty of the governor, that doubt was dispelled last evening, when he denounced the regular republican nominees for the legislature, and advised republicans to vote for democrats.

This has been his policy throughout the campaign and he has pursued it vigorously. Many people believed that better judgment would prevail when he came into Rock county, and that Senator Whitehead and Captain Norcross, the regular nominees of the party, would escape the venom of his vindictive mind but such was not the case.

He went out of his way to single out these men, and to urge the election of democratic candidates. He also forgot to mention that a man by the name of Roosevelt is leading the republican forces, and that a delegation of congressmen of the same political faith, is also seeking endorsement at the hands of the republican party.

The American inventor is responsible for the statement that E. E. Raymer, an Ohio farmer, took an old cross-cut saw and made knives out of it. These he fastened to a Y shaped sled with the points projecting ahead. Then hitching a horse to it he cut two rows of corn at a clip. As he walked behind the machine the corn fell into his arms and a shocked it as he walked. With this home-made affair he cut 144 shock while a neighbor with a new corn binder only cut 80. Now the neighbors are wondering why they didn't think of this scheme before.

The world is full of people who are unsatisfied with conditions, and who want a change. Prosperity counts for nothing and stability is of no importance, but a change is most desirable. These people come to the surface in the political world every four years and just now they are in evidence. This is the issue and the only issue, in the national campaign it has no merit and can't win.

The voting machine cuts and in instructions on page three, will hold every voter to cast an intelligent ballot. To vote a straight republican ticket turn the knob down to right in front of fourth row, then cut on the state ticket and cut in National republican on second row.

A vote for Scofield is half a vote against La Follette. A vote for Peck is a full vote against him. The next governor will be either Peck or LaFollette. Which do you prefer? Peck is a democrat, what is La Follette?

It looks very much as though Andrew Jensen, of Edgerton, would be the next state treasurer. That office will be well filled is not a question of doubt.

Don't flatter yourself that you are voting a republican ticket when you vote for a governor who is doing all in his power to defeat regular party nominees who do not agree with him.

This is the year when every republican can vote a split ticket with a clear conscience. La Folletteism is not republicanism, and the state has had enough of it.

PERMANENCE OF CURE.

The Chief Merit.
Many so called pile remedies will afford the user slight temporary relief, and the majority of sufferers do not expect more than this. Women especially, after having tried every preparation recommended for the cure of piles, have come to the conclusion, that there is no cure except by an operation. This is a right view of the matter, because of the shock of the delicate nervous system of women, and many of those afflicted have resigned themselves to the situation with never a thought that there is any help in sight for them.

We invite the attention of all such to the experience of the lady whose address is given below:
"I feel it my duty to recommend the Pyramid Pile Cure, for after suffering ten years with a most distressing form of Piles, I am entirely cured, thanks to this remedy. Anyone doubting this can write to Margaret Brady, 156 Whitman St., Cleveland Ohio."

Ten months later she writes: "I am glad to say that I am still perfectly free from Piles, and have not had the slightest trouble since I first used your remedy. I am well known in Cleveland and have advertised Pyramid Pile Cure extensively here. I take pleasure in doing so, as it saved me from an operation which I always dreaded, and you are assured, the remedy can have no firmer advocate than I."

Testimony like this should convince the most skeptical, that Pyramid Pile Cure not only cures, but cures to stay cured. It is in the form of a suppository; can be applied in the privacy of the home, directly to the parts affected, and does its work quickly and painlessly.

Druggists sell this famous remedy for fifty cents a package, and we urge all sufferers to buy a package now and give it a trial tonight. Accept no substitutes.

GOVERNOR SPOKE LAST EVENING

TELLS HIS HEARERS TO VOTE AGAINST WHITEHEAD.

ADVISES BOLT OF THE TICKET

Talks at Republican Meeting, Urging Hearers to Vote for Democrats.

"Just one word. Let me say to you in the choice of an assembly man and in the choice of a senator in old Rock county, for heaven's sake vote for somebody who will be for you instead of for the railroads. I tell you the man running for the assembly on the democratic ticket stands ready to support this legislation and the man running for the senate, E. M. Richmond, stands for this legislation and will support it. Let me tell you, fellow citizens, vote for this man for your state and for your country." This was the closing paragraph of the speech of Governor La Follette last night; the closing words of a republican governor, speaking at a republican mass meeting and urging his hearers to vote against regularly nominated republicans because they oppose his legislation.

Very Dramatic
Governor La Follette spoke for three hours and a half. He spoke to one of the largest audiences that has ever attended a political meeting in Jansville. The opera-house was filled from gallery to pit and back on the stage to the very walls which were lined with men who stood through the whole address. The governor made a masterful oration. It was his address on representative government. He is a past master in the use of rhetoric and his dramatic ability was used to advantage. Hall La Follette not taken up the law and politics he would have made an actor of no mean ability. He had his audience with him from his opening remarks until he closed. He carried them along with him in his tissue of cleverly constructed fabrications and truths called forth applause at the right places, paused with dramatic skill when necessary to drive home a point and controlled his voice to show pathos and intensity of feeling at just the right places. It was a finished and polished address, an address that has been repeated so often that it is not improbable that the governor himself does not believe all he says to be true and nothing but the truth.

Not Political
It was not a political speech. No where throughout the whole course of his address did the governor appeal to his hearers to vote for the republican nominee for president. Nowhere did he mention the election of a republican congressman appear. But once did he mention the president. And then only to make a point he wished to make regarding the passage of a rate commission bill. He openly boasted that no matter if there was a possible combination of stalwarts and democrats who might defeat him, and there was not, that he had traveled over the state and they could not come within a thousand miles of doing so, he would not be out of the race. He would sit down November 9th and begin his plans for a campaign two years from now to bring about the victorious solution of his pet measures. "I am going on, if God lets me live to the end of my course, advocating these measures," he said with dramatic feeling. He told with his voice full of pathos how he had sacrificed everything—wealth, position, and honor—in his fight for the people of Wisconsin. He had nothing to leave his family in the shape of property and wealth, but he hoped to leave them a name—a name which would stand long after he was gone as that of a man who had fought the good fight for the people.

After Whitehead
Governor La Follette was nearly through his address before he touched upon Senator Whitehead and his record. He said that in his visits through the state he had many senators under obligations to him by telling their constituents their representative's record. He then proceeded to read the names of the senators who had opposed the measures laying particular stress upon the name of Whitehead. He classed this band of honest men who stood together against the grain bill, the railway bill, the co-operative bill, and others, as a band of men who voted against every proposition measure, claiming that this meant an understanding between these men and the railroads. He said with emphasis, "The record of the senator from this district has changed in the past four years. It has been a change of character, a change of reality." It was not until he closed with an appeal to the voters to cast their ballot for Richmond and for St. John in preference to Whitehead and Norcross, that he showed the real bitterness and venom of his hatred for the conservative republicans who blocked his radical and revolutionary legislation.

Starts at Beginning
The governor started his speech at the very beginning. He told of the conditions of the country when the union was formed; he told of the growth of trade, the growth of individual corporations, the birth of the combinations or trusts which would control and do control the prices of the world. He cited from addresses of Lincoln, from Garfield, and from Sherman to illustrate that the present conditions were foretold, and made a bitter attack upon the evils of these great grasping corporations. He pleaded for the people to rise in their might, and destroy them. Then he took up the Standard Oil. He picked the character of Rockefeller to pieces; told of his deal with the railroads, the homes he made desolate with his giant combination and finally said that if the Bible was true the only explanation he could make for his crimes upon this earth would be made in the life hereafter and in the place designated to him.

Democratic Side
He took up the democratic state platform, likened it to the platform adapted at the opera-house convention, "Not the republican; I mean the republican convention which was held at the gymnasium." He went back to the "Granger" movement of 1873. He told of the benefits that were derived at that time, but which were not lasting and deplored the fact that since 1875 the railroads had had control of the legislature. He paid particular attention to the statement that when the people lost their representation in the legislature through the connivance of the representative and the great corporations they lost their vote, their voice in the government. He brought this up to pave the way for the primary discussion and so skillfully did he weave his facts that all the claims made for his adaptation seemed plausible to the audience. He dwelt at length on the alleged stealing of the nomination for governor from him in 1896 and again in 1898 by the railroad and corporation interests, by free use of money. He told his oft repeated tale of the railroad engineer who came to him with tears in his eye to say he must either give up working for him or lose his place. He told of the conductor at Baraboo who refused to stop his work for the governor and resigned his place only to accept one at the gift of the governor which paid him a hundred dollars a month. He dwelt with pride upon the growth of the state, became enthusiastic upon the great increase of the normal and charitable institutions and said that this explained the great increase in the cost of running the ship of state over the democratic periods under Peck.

Full of Isms
The speech was full of isms, full of what the governor purposed to do, the great benefits he would give the state through the bills he hoped to see passed. He did not ask for votes for himself. In fact he denied the desire to do their worst, defied the democrats to vote against him. He boastfully stated he could be elected, hinted that the opposition could not defeat him. The true complexion of the audience can be seen when it is remembered that the name of Cleveland was received with cheers and that while some hissed at the reference of Whitehead's vote on certain matters the cheers overshadowed the hisses and drowned them out.

Is Worn Out
One seeing and hearing Governor La Follette cannot help but see and notice his worn condition. He looks aged and weary. He has a hard drawn expression on his face. His brow is wrinkled; his eyes have a glistering, haunted look. He is putting his whole life into the present campaign. After speaking until half past eleven last night, he took a few hours' rest and then traveled westward on a freight train to Darling. Where he spoke this morning. This noon he spoke at Shullsburg and tonight he comes back to speak at Beloit. His voice is husky. He frequently takes a drink to clear his throat. He speaks with difficulty, but his dramatic gestures, his stage appearance makes his hearers forget the defects of his speech. La Follette is a clever, a shrewd politician. When he said that all men were ambitious he named the characteristic which is most predominant in his make-up. La Follette as the orator and La Follette as the man and politician are two different men. As the orator he is smooth, polished, finished, a master of sarcasm and wit. As the politician he is crafty and shrewd. He is for himself and himself only. Throughout his whole address last evening he showed his own personal ambition before all else.

IS DOG CATCHER TO GET A SALARY?

Amendment to Dog Ordinance Provides Twenty Dollars a Month—
Settled at Next Session.

Will the canine incarceralor be paid a salary? Is one of the questions that will be answered at the common council meeting on November 14. An amendment to the dog ordinance providing for a salary of twenty dollars a month for the dog-catcher was presented to the city fathers last evening by Alderman Matheson. It was given its first and second reading and will be given its third at the next session. The object is to get some one who will tend to the work of catching and feeding that he is getting some reasonable compensation for such work, so that he will not give it up as has been the case both times before. Should the amendment pass, a dog-catcher it is expected, will be appointed immediately.

FREIGHTS CRASH INTO EACH OTHER

A Head On Collision This Morning
Near Chemung, Ill.—Trains
In Here, Off Time.

On account of a wreck at Chemung, Illinois, this morning the 11:45 train over the North-Western arrived in the city at 11:20 having come via Clinton instead of through Beloit. The accident occurred when two freights crashed into each other in a head-on collision. The trains were broken up and cars thrown into the ditch. A brakeman from Milwaukee was injured but how seriously has not yet been ascertained. Dick's Little Machine: "I tell you it's an outrage. A man can't tell whether he's voted or not. Pretty soon they'll be having us turn our vote in with a crank." All this was said in a loud tone of voice by an angry citizen this morning, as he paced to and fro in the city hall voting booth. After he had gone one of the inspectors remarked: "I think the voting crank is not only coming but has arrived."

A MARVELOUS MIDGET

Will Be in This City the Balance of This Week.

Since Tom Thumb created a furor on two continents, there has never appeared before the public a midget so diminutive and entertaining as Major Gantz the wonderful little man who can now be seen at 18 South Main street, afternoons and evenings the balance of this week. The major is well worthy of this attention and has proved a big attraction wherever he has visited. This interesting little human being is 39 years old, weighs 30 pounds and when he throws his shoulders back and assumes a military pose measures 18 inches from head to heel. He is an Iowa man and was born on a farm near Fairfield, and is a graduate of Fairfield school. Unlike most midgets the major is exceptionally bright intellectually. He is his own manager and makes his own investments. He entertains his visitors with a monologue of jokes and witty conversation in a way that would do credit to Marshal P. Wilder or De Wolfe Hopper. Smaller than Tom Thumb—in fact, the smallest man in the world—and funny conversation, the major's entertainment is of the highest order of excellence. The major bears the reputation of a ladies' man and smilingly acknowledges his preference for the fair sex and his desire and intention to marry soon. The lady who secures the major would acquire considerable advantage over the ordinary bride. If he should grow obstreperous she could after the fashion of the wife made famous by "Mother Goose" put him in a plait and let him drum. None should fail to call on the major while in this city. An admission fee of ten cents will be charged.

A GHOSTLY MESSAGE FOR ALD. CONNELL

Spooks Also Produced a Reincarnation of Eddie Fay—Halloween Passed Off Quietly.

Few depredations of a serious nature occurred during the Halloween festivities in Jansville last evening. J. D. Griffin who lives at 208 Cherry street complained to the police that his clothes-line was relieved of several pieces of linen and that neighbors had seen two women in the yard about ten o'clock. Acting Chief Brown and his force kept careful watch for the marauders and several boys felt the sting of the horse-whip carried by the first named. A number of plank aprons were overturned and some of the lower windows were marked up. Out in front of the barber shop adjoining the Myers House an effigy of Eddie Fay was deposited. Stretched out on the sidewalk, many pedestrians at first mistook the dummy for some poor wayfarer who had succumbed to the potent influences of the hard elder barrel. It bore the legend: "Hello, Bill! I am yours, Eddie Fay." Over on Connell's cigar store there was a message to the alderman—who last spring championed the cause of those who loiter to speak edifying words on schoolhouse porticoes. The communication was supposed to be from one of the feminine persuasion. It read: "Meet me on the schoolhouse steps, Eddie dear." Chief Scheibel of Beloit who was in the city this morning said that the night passed off rather quietly in the line city. He came upon some college boys about to lift a section of sidewalk and gave one or two of them a few sharp cracks across the head, before they realized who was with them. They then fled, leaving their hats.

CALCULATIONS OF SOCIAL DEMOCRATS

Expect To Poll 500 Votes for Their Ticket in Rock County and 50,000 in the State.

Social democrats claim that they will poll 500 votes in Rock county in the forthcoming election. In the state they are making claims that they will send six men to the state legislature and perhaps one from Milwaukee county to congress. The committee in Jansville has been sending out literature for several weeks past, distributing 6,000 leaflets a week ago and the same number the week before that. The nominees of the ticket are all union men and in the measure will be supported by the union labor vote. They are: For sheriff, Peter Christensen of Beloit; for county clerk, J. R. Horn of Jansville; for county treasurer, W. Williams of Jansville; for clerk of court, W. H. Phelps of Jansville; for district attorney, W. S. Cary of Jansville; for registrar of deeds, Charles Conger of Beloit; for county surveyor, Fred Burdick of "Milton Junction"; for state senator, Morris Mortimer; for assemblyman, T. J. McKelvie. Two years ago the social democrats polled 16,000 votes in the state. They expect to poll 50,000 this election.

WILL SPEAK HERE SATURDAY NIGHT

Senator Whitehead Is To Address
a Meeting at the Opera House.

On Saturday night the arguments of Governor La Follette will be answered by State Senator John M. Whitehead at the Myers opera-house. There is probably no man in the state whom the governor more fears and hates than he does. Senator Whitehead, the bitter arraignment of this statesman last evening deflected the La Follette supporters but it also cleared the vision of many leading democrats—who had thought that E. M. Richmond, the democratic nominee, was against the governor. The statement made by the governor last night that he was pledged to support these measures removes all doubt and leaves them free to vote as they please. Senator Whitehead will take up each measure which the governor discussed last night, although he will not treat the matter from a socialistic standpoint as he did. Dr. Amos P. Wilder of Madison will also speak at this meeting. On Monday night Senator Quarles is to speak at Evanville and M. G. Jeffers will tear the lid off state affairs in Jansville.

More Pleasant Days Recorded Than
of Conditions and Temperatures.

On the general plan the days of October have gradually become colder and colder though there have been fluctuations in the temperature, when warm days have followed cold. The average maximum temperature of the month was 60—a fall of 11 degrees from that of last September. The average minimum temperature was 57 to 40.8 and the general average has dropped from 64 to 50.9. The thermometer has reached the 74 mark four times and fallen to the freezing point eight times, while the lowest temperature recorded is that of last Thursday when the minimum was 25. The snow that was predicted by Rev. Hicks for the month came, but it came in a rather weak way—a flake falling about every five minutes and melting as soon as it touched the ground. There were more pleasant days than days of inclement weather—seventeen being recorded pleasant and the other fourteen as cloudy, changeable, drizzly, showers or rain.

A MOROSE VIEW OF CITY GOVERNMENT

Elderly Lady Paid Taxes Reluctantly
Because She Supposed City Officers Pocketed the Money.

In all seriousness a rather elderly lady, reluctantly handing the money for her city taxes to Treasurer Fathors this morning, sighed and said: "I presume it's got to be, but by the time the money gets through the fingers of the council and the city officers there's not much left for the needs of the city." This pessimistic view so surprised the treasurer that he only murmured that he hoped it wasn't quite as bad as that. Out of the 2,800 taxpayers only about 1,700 have made their settlement with the city. The time for paying the tax is supposed to close on November 1 but a number of days of grace are allowed.

HIGH CLASS DRUGGISTS AND — OTHERS.

The better class of druggists, everywhere, are men of scientific attainments and high integrity, who devote their lives to the welfare of their fellow men in supplying the best of remedies and purest medicinal agents of known value, in accordance with physicians' prescriptions and scientific formula. Druggists of the better class manufacture many excellent remedies, but always under original or official names and they never sell false brands, or imitation medicines. They are the men to deal with when in need of anything in their line, which usually includes all standard remedies and corresponding adjuncts of a first-class pharmacy and the finest and best of toilet articles and preparations and many useful accessories and remedial appliances. The earning of a fair living, with the satisfaction which arises from a knowledge of the benefits conferred upon their patrons and assistance to the medical profession, is usually their greatest reward for long years of study and many hours of daily toil. They all know that Syrup of Figs is an excellent laxative remedy and that it gives universal satisfaction, and therefore they are selling many millions of bottles annually to the well informed purchasers of the choicest remedies, and they always take pleasure in handing out the genuine article bearing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package. They know that in cases of colds and headaches attended by biliousness and constipation and of weakness or torpidity of the liver and bowels, arising from irregular habits, indigestion, or over-eating, that there is no other remedy so pleasant, prompt and beneficial in its effects as Syrup of Figs, and they are

SUNFLOWER PHILOSOPHY.

You never know how long a man's memory is until you have offended him.

We hate the man who squeezes your hand, in shaking hands, to show that he is an athlete.

When a man's nose begins to show a beer blossom it is a sign that he is ripe for reform.

About the only compliment a fat woman gets is when someone says: "I believe you are falling off a little."

Much as we boast of Americans we must admit there is a type of worthless man who isn't worth powder and lead to kill him.

A good rule for people to observe who are conducting a love affair: Think more than you talk. Even then you are bound to say a great many foolish things.

An Atchison man goes a little further than the average man on a hot day. In addition to taking off all the clothing he can spare he removes his false teeth.—Atchison, Kan., Globe.

We will do this for you: If you cannot raise the full amount to pay spot cash, we will let you select a Rug, pay $5.00 or more on it and hold it for you until you can raise the balance.

Wednesday evenings are busy evenings. The thousand little items are sold by us at lower prices than you pay elsewhere. Saving on Hosiery. Saving on Underwear. Saving on Ribbons. Saving on Corsets. Saving on Gloves. To inquire is to establish the truth of our claim.

Bargain Basement Facts.

Every Article Sold out of our Basement During our "Bargain Basement" Sales is Sold Positively at a loss to us.

OUR MAIN REASON for holding these sales is to dispose of every suit, overcoat or trousers from our Men's or Boy's Departments, which lines have become broken during the season's selling. Another reason, we don't carry anything in our regular stock which is one year old, consequently we throw every article out of each department into the Basement which has arrived at this age and mark a price upon it (which is positively less than the cost to us) in order to quickly dispose of it.

A new line from our first floor will be placed on the table in the Basement for "Wednesday Bargain Day," November 2nd.

Men's Overcoats are priced at $6.00 which have sold out of our regular stock at $8.50. Sizes left in this line 36, 38, 39, and 44, one each.

Men's Overcoats which have sold at $9.00 and $10.00 on the main floor all this season are marked on this Basement table at $6.50. About 15 coats in this line most all sizes from 34 to 44.

The biggest snap of all will be an offering of Overcoats, 36 in all, actual count, which were carried over from last year and the year previous. There are 18 Overcoats cut fully two to four inches shorter than Overcoats which we are selling today from this season's styles. Some made from elegant fine Kerseys, Meltons and Black Cheviots, lined with fine worsted with satin shoulder linings, fine velvet collars, none sold for less than $18.00, $20.00 and $25.00 for Wednesday Bargain Day we offer them at $8.00 a piece. There are also 18 Overcoats cut similar to the season's styles in fancy cheviots and a few Black and Browns with heavy serge trimmings, worth $15.00 to $20.00 when they were in the exact style. Now for the "Bargain Sale" we offer them at $8.00.

We also make again our offer of 10 per cent reduction from price of any Overcoat of this season's styles on our main floor for Wednesday, November 2nd.

To those who are not particular about having an Overcoat which is exactly in style we urge you to visit our Basement tomorrow and take advantage of this offer. Select your Overcoat tomorrow from the Basement or out of our regular stock, and if you are not prepared to pay for the coat and take it, then we will accept a small deposit and lay it aside for you to be delivered at any time during this month or December.

Big Snaps in Men's Suits, Extra Trousers, Men's Underwear, Shirts and Hosiery in the Basement. Big Snaps in Boys' and Children's Suits, Boys' and Children's Sweaters, Boys' and Children's Caps, Boys' and Children's Shirts and Hosiery.
